NCC to build 124 apartments in Haninge

NCC will be working on behalf of Stena Fastigheter AB to build 124 apartments, both owner-occupied apartments and rental apartments, in Haninge south of Stockholm. This is a turnkey contract with an order value of around SEK 165 million.

The new district of Vega is emerging in Haninge, south of Stockholm. NCC's contract involves the construction of three buildings, Zenit, Nadir and Horisont, with a total of 124 apartments, of which 82 are owner-occupied apartments and 42 are rental apartments.

These apartments are well planned, one to four rooms in size, and all have their own balcony or patio. The buildings will be constructed next to a future park, and the area is close to nature, services and communications as well. Stena Fastigheter has also had clear requirements for social sustainability as part of the project.

“We have been working for 20 years on social sustainability through our relationship management approach. We are very pleased to now be including this approach in our procurement procedures for new construction so that we can act as a responsible urban developer together with our contractors and drive development forward towards a sustainable society,” says PG Sabel, CEO of Stena Fastigheter Stockholm.

“For instance, common values workshops will be arranged for everyone working on the project. We are also planning a collaboration with an upper secondary school where they will have the opportunity to use the construction of the buildings as a tool in their teaching,” says Cathrine Velin, project developer at NCC Building Sweden.

Construction will start immediately and the first residents will take possession of their properties in June 2022. The contract is worth around SEK 165 million and will be registered among orders in the third quarter of 2020 in NCC Building Sweden business area.
